

Investment focus

The BB Adamant Sustainable Healthcare Fund invests in healthcare firms with strong sustainability credentials and innovative business models. Examples of sustainability in the healthcare industry are environmentally sound procurement policies for drug makers, high safety standards for medical products and services, and a commitment to ethics when conducting clinical trials. From the perspective of the patient, the early diagnosis of life-threatening diseases, personalized medicine enabling highly selective treatments and efficient treatment procedures are key sustainability indicators. A variety of high-growth themes, smart stock selection using our established investment process and the application of sustainability criteria are the fund's tools for achieving attractive returns.

Past performance is not a reliable indicator of future results and can be misleading. As the subfund is denominated in a currency that may differ than an investor's base currency, changes in the rate of exchange may have an adverse effect on prices and incomes. Performance is shown net of fees and expenses for the relevant share class over the reference period. All performance figures reflect the reinvestment of dividends and do not take into account the commissions and costs incurred on the issue and redemption of shares, if any. Individual costs are not taken into account and would have a negative impact on the performance. With an investment amount of EUR 1,000 over an investment period of five years, the investment result in the first year would be reduced by the front-end load of up to EUR 50 (5%) as well as by additional individual custody charges. In subsequent years, the investment result would also be reduced by the individual custody account costs incurred. The reference benchmark of this class is used for performance comparison purposes only (dividend reinvested). No benchmark is directly identical to a subfund, thus the performance of a benchmark is not a reliable indicator of future performance of the subfund it is compared to. There can be no assurance that a return will be achieved or that a substantial loss of capital will not be incurred.

Market commentary

In December stock markets added to their gains from the preceding month and ended the month in good spirits. Decisive reasons for this were, on the one hand, the increasing likelihood of a partial agreement between the US and China to end their bitter trade conflict, on the other hand, the surprisingly clear election victory of the Conservative party in the UK general election, and continued easy money policies from the world's major central banks. Against this backdrop, the broad MSCI World equity index rose by exactly 3% in USD during the period, while the health sector MSCI World Healthcare Index performed slightly better and rose by 3.41%. The BB Adamant Sustainable Healthcare Fund's monthly performance was with 2.67% positive (USD / I shares).

The following stocks had a positive impact on portfolio performance in December: German biotech firm Evotec advanced after achieving the third milestone in its diabetes research partnership with Sanofi, US pharma giant Bristol-Myers profited from the presentation of good CAR-T trial data at the largest and most important blood conference ASH (American Society of Hematology) and the shares of Microport, a Chinese medtech manufacturer of cardiology products, rallied without any fundamental triggers. On the downside, Abiomed was one of the portfolio's weakest performers over the month; investor doubts about the future sales of Impella, the smallest heart pump in the world, led to a sell-off. 3SBIO was also a performance detractor. The generics specialist consolidated after products from foreign competitors, Humira and Herceptin for example, were added to the country's National Reimbursement Drug List (NRDL), which means patient costs for these drugs will now be reimbursed by the government.

Investment process

The fund's investment universe is derived from the proprietary Adamant Healthcare Index that has been successfully managed since 2007. This index filters out about 600 stocks from a global pool of more than 4000 listed healthcare stocks. Another filter based on ESG ratings is then applied to this initial universe of 600 investable stocks. Companies are thus screened according to environmental, social and corporate governance criteria. In this analysis we rely on the long-standing expertise of our research partner Sustainalytics.

To qualify for a spot in the fund's portfolio, the companies must meet several ESG criteria: They must rank among the sustainability leaders in their industry (best-in-class approach), they cannot be involved in serious ESG-relevant controversies or in any controversial business activities, and they must comply with all 10 principles of the UN Global Compact. There are caps on the amount of sales a qualifying company can generate from controversial business activities and practices. After applying the ESG filter, about 40-50% of the stocks in the initial universe qualify for investment by the fund. The next step is a time-tested factor analysis based on four quantitative and four qualitative parameters. The objective here is to select companies that are inexpensive and generating fast growth and that have a robust competitive profile that will allow them to defend their leadership in years to come.

Ultimately a portfolio of 40 of the most sustainable companies in the healthcare industry, ten from each of the four regions (Western Europe, North America, Japan/Oceania and Emerging Markets), is constructed. The application of the eight factors has typically led to a focus on mid cap stocks and the underweighting of pharma stocks as well as the North America region relative to the MSCI World Healthcare Index. The composition of the portfolio is reviewed and rebalanced every six months.

It is especially suitable for investors who wish to focus on sustainability and have an investment horizon of at least five years. The fund exhibits the level of risk that is typical of equity investments.

The calculation of the risk and earnings profile is based on simulated/historical data, which cannot be used as a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The classification of the fund may change in future and does not constitute a guarantee. Even a fund classed in category 1 does not constitute a completely risk-free investment. There can be no guarantee that a return will be achieved or that a substantial loss of capital will not be incurred. The overall risk exposure may have a strong impact on any return achieved by the fund or subfund. For further information please refer to the fund prospectus or KIID.
